KAWANAMI/JONES MOVED THAT in light of the repeated failings of Helen M. McGraw, Recording Secretary to Students’ Council, to wit, her repeated and wanton absenteeism at changeover meetings of Students’ Council (as evidenced from 2000 through 2003) and notably failing to mind her Ps and Qs;

That Students’ Council EXPRESS its dismay at the Recording Secretary’s flagrant disregard for this body by means of a censure;

That Students’ Council REVOKE the Recording Secretary’s appointment, FINE the Recording Secretary in the amount of one million dollars, and WITHDRAW the Recording Secretary’s Students’ Union membership privileges for a period of forever less one day;

That Students’ Council BANISH the Recording Secretary from the Dominion for a period not less than five but not greater than eight years, excepting alternate Tuesdays; and

That Students’ Council DIRECT the President of the Students’ Union to compose a letter to the Prime Minister of Tuvalu, in the form of a Norse epic poem, containing the words “transposition”, “translation”, and “kangaroo”, asking that the Recording Secretary’s Canadian passport be folded, spindled, and/or mutilated.
CLYBURN MOVED THAT Students’ Council approve the proposed resolutions:

A RESOLUTION recognizing the unique identity of Faculté Saint-Jean students with intent to impose this identity on all University of Alberta students:

WHEREAS the University of Alberta is a dual language university, as courses are taught both in French and English, in a number of programs, and

WHEREAS until the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1885, most of the white settlers on the Canadian Plains were of French origin, and

WHEREAS the Faculté Saint-Jean has played a pivotal role in the survival of Edmonton’s francophone community since its establishment as a college in 1908, and

WHEREAS Faculté Saint Jean students have been isolated from the main campus of the University of Alberta for much too long, and

WHEREAS the Students Union executive only managed to take time out of their “busy” schedules twice within the last academic year to visit the FSJ, and

WHEREAS one of these occasions was elections, and therefore doesn’t count, and

WHEREAS FSJ students are people too, and thus deserve the same attention and respect as main campus students, and

WHEREAS FSJ students are special, and

WHEREAS the Association des universitaires de la Faculté Saint-Jean (AUFSJ) throws better parties than the Students, Union.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Students’ Council of the University of Alberta:

1. That Students’ Council do hereby order the immediate move of all Student Union offices to the Faculté Saint Jean.

2. That 8 Students, Council seats be allocated to the Faculté Saint Jean.

3. That Student Council members be permitted to debate in Québeçois, Acadien, or Canadien while in Council chambers.

4. That the Week of Welcome be renamed “la Party de la rentrée”, and that this event be coordinated by the AUFSJ and held at Bonnie Doon community hall.

5. That Antifreeze be renamed “Carnaval” and be organized by le Bonhomme.

6. That Carnaval would consist of a Cabane à Sucre, ice sculpturing and skating at the Bonnie Doon rink.

7. That year end Beer Gardens be renamed “Apocalypse” and that it be held at Bonnie Doon community hall.

8. That the SU President be required to take one course a year at the Faculté Saint Jean.

2002-24/1  CALL TO ORDER  6:00

2002-24/4  SPEAKER’S BUSINESS
Votes were cast for councilor of the year.

2002-24/8  APPROVAL OF THE MINUTES
ROSS/BOLIVAR MOVED TO APPROVE
Carried

2002-24/9  QUESTION PERIOD

Kawanami: Is it good practice for the executive branch of this organization to be referring to the legislative branch as “idiots” in a public forum?

Ross: There’s not much to interpret; I’ve been quite forthcoming with my views on council. The only change I’d make would be to say that most councilors are idiots, not that all councilors are idiots.

Reid: In the truly stimulating “Dialog on VIDS” thread on the webboard, Sharma wrote that SU businesses are to serve students, not “for business ambitions of members of this organization (past and present).” As a member of the litigation committee, I’m appalled at these defamatory comments. To whom, exactly, was he referring in this posting? Is he aware these comments are tortuous and may expose the SU to liability? When can we expect a retraction?

Sharma: I was referring to the perception that the SU is an organization run for the business experience of its leaders. This wasn’t intended towards particular staff members and isn’t libelous because no one is named. I’m not surprised that Reid would try to interpret my comments this way; it’s been like that all year. I won’t apologize or retract because it wasn’t directed towards an individual. If you think you know at whom it’s directed, please let me know so I can ask the President to investigate the situation.

Smith: Could we please have an update on Committee for Total Loss?

Brechtel: The committee met today and hopes to have a proposal for changeover meeting. Still some details to work out but fairly close to settlement; hopefully we won’t have to strike the committee next year.

Ekdahl: When will Samuel be going on his date with Blair Dent? [Who purchased him at the DU date auction]

Samuel: It’s a humorous story, and I won’t waste council’s time with the details (they’re on the webboard).

Hudema: Could we please have an update on the provincial budget?

Sharma: In a word: disappointing. Increased base grant by 2% (<inflation). Student loads extended whopping $300 and no increase in lifetime cap. Indirect costs of research haven’t been addressed, nor $600M of deferred maintenance. PSE clearly not a priority. Summer is the key time for pushing policies so hopefully the incoming exec is prepared. Deregulation is coming.

Hudema: It was my idea to create the webboard that has given Hack Club 7 their playground. As creator, I’d like to be named an honorary member of this elite group.

Smith: I can’t speak on behalf of HC7 because we lack policy on the matter. The webboard was a joint idea between the President and myself, then a technical consultant stepped in. A motion to make the technical consultant a member hasn’t yet passed; after that, maybe we’ll consider a motion to make the President a member.
Hudema: Smith is trying to take credit where it most definitely is not due; didn’t I meet with the technical directors before meeting with you?

Smith: I’ve had it up to here with the President’s consultation meetings (although I can’t speak for council because we don’t have policy on that).

Reid: Since when did this council become a dick-measuring contest for who came up with more ideas?

Smith: May 1st

OBERHOFFNER/WELKE MOVED TO STRIKE item 2e from the 2-Apr-03 meeting (Operational Policy 14-11 – Students’ Union Webboard)

Oberhoffner: The webboard is a published forum; this policy amounts to media censorship which is bad.

Welke: I dislike this policy because its conditions are fairly arbitrary. This gives two avenues to remove postings but no means to put them back up. We shouldn’t be giving a staff member the ability to censor elected officials. Many comments are meant to between hacks, who get the jokes and won’t be offended (e.g. Taylor comes from New Zealand and I do believe that he humps sheep.)

Kawanami: There’s lots of stuff on the forum that doesn’t really need to be there. We must avoid putting ourselves in dangerous legal territory.

Hudema: The policy is a good one and needs to be put into place. There is an additional rider basically saying that if a posting is wrongly removed it could be appealed to the exec and eventually to DIE board.

Defeated

KAWANAMI/WELKE MOVED TO STRIKE Item 1B from the 7-Apr-03 meeting (Operational Policy 14.12 - Ethical Buying Policy)

Kawanami: I have the same reservations about this that I did when it was a proposed bylaw: too much burden on FAB and having a legislative committee doing executive work messes with organizational karma.

Hudema: The operational policy contains more mechanisms than the bylaw did. More info on where FAB can find information, particularly on positive screening (how to find businesses that practice environmentally friendly practices). Applies to future contracts only.

Reid: I’m not against buying things ethically but this is political, not operational, policy.

Smith: This is an operating policy with political overtones. It is not a political policy.

Kawanami: It seems to me that FAB was just picked out of the air and I’m not convinced that it is the best body to sit in judgment over evil multinational corporations. A legislative committee shouldn’t be doing operational dirty work. We’re trusting a bunch of websites I don’t recognize; and there is no process to ensure due diligence. These are big weighty questions and the right answer isn’t always clear-cut.

Weppler: We’re counting a lot on external sources that may or may not be credible. Getting enough accurate information creates enforceability problems. This might be a good idea, but so is saving babies.

Samuel: Operational policy deals with everyday transactions, issues strictly executive in nature. I’d like to see it brought back with FAB removed; that’s just “sensical”.

Jones: I like the idea of being ethical but this policy is insufficiently broad. Saying that it’s unethical to exploit people in underdeveloped countries draws an artificial distinction as people in developed countries can be exploited as well. There is a major problem with how we deal with our suppliers’ suppliers: diamonds don’t kill people, nor does DeBeers: little kids with machetes in Sierra Leone do. How can we ensure that our suppliers’ suppliers comply with this policy?

Smith: I agree with the concerns of inserting a legislative committee in operational policy and would seek to rectify that. People in general should be protected and most developed countries have sufficient legislation to do so. Those aren’t enough reason to reject this. It is nonsensical to reject the policy for not going far enough.

Samuel (POI): Didn’t you agree that having a second reading is no reason to pass shoddy legislation the first time around? We shouldn’t pass a bad policy just because it would later be remedied.

Smith: This isn’t shoddy enough to warrant defeat. All pieces of legislation in this organization are to some degree shoddy, except those written personally by me.

Reid: No one is disagreeing that it’s a step in the right direction but this is too much regulation; an Operational Policy should just say “the SU shall, at all times, buy ethical goods.”

Smith (POI): Will Reid commit to supporting such a policy?

Reid: Yes I would.

Hudema: This is a policy in the right direction. When a student has a complaint, FAB would come in. Concerns about FAB aren’t sufficient reason to reject this policy. This policy is forward-looking, seeking find ethical companies. Excellent web resources are available.

Defeated

KAWANAMI/WEPLLER MOVED TO STRIKE item 2F from the 2-Apr-03 meeting (VIDS)

Kawanami: The only exec member who will be around next year voted in favor of keeping VIDS. It’s just silly to take the TVs out of the roof just because they’re there.

Wepppler: We’ve seen the exec bring this forward several times and I am still not satisfied, although I congratulate them for actually bringing forth numbers. We’ve already committed a lot of money to this and it is important that we consider other options.

Hudema (POI): Who else would you like to have us consult with? Doesn’t everyone who supports this also support sinking new money into the project?

Wepppler: Too much of the consulting has been with regard to its marketing potential, rather than other possible uses for the system. I want my student money to be spent in a responsible manner and I want this investigated.

Smith: We can do this right, not do it at all, or do it wrong. Doing it right takes about 5 digits. Since new monitors and locations will be required anyway, removing the TVs now doesn’t change the cost of doing it right in the future.
Having the TVs sitting there uselessly is embarrassing. Minimum cost would be one day of expert labor (3-digit cost). All of VIDS would have to be on the same channel. If we’re not willing to sink some significant money into the project, we need to take them down. Let’s not throw good money after bad.

Jones: 2 questions: What are we going to do with VIDS? Do we want that system to be used for entertainment? Marketing? Some combination thereof? If all we want is entertainment, this will cost less than $1000. If we want it to be a useful marketing system, then we’ll have to spend 5 digits. Are the revenues from marketing from a new fancy shiny VIDS worth $30000? It looks like no. If we want VIDS to be an entertainment system, unless we want it to be super snazzy, then it doesn’t matter where the TVs are.

Meeker: Nobody remembers the advertising aspect of VIDS but they do remember the impact it had during 9/11. This proposal destroys the ability of future executives to exercise this option.

Reikie: The marketing dept. recommends using a few large TVs rather than a lot of small ones. The marketing dept. probably knows more about marketing than we do. We can’t separate entertainment from marketing. Lots of students study in SUB; lets respect their right to a quiet environment. News would be better seen on SUB stage.

Dube: If you don’t want the TVs, Fac will take them.

Hudema: TVs themselves will need to be replaced in 1-2 years. SUB stage provides a better opportunity for 9/11-type news coverage. We hope for SUB stage to have a more communal atmosphere; there’s the fire, everything in circles. Having TVs all around the building is distracting. TVs without sound are silly. The TVs are in bad locations and need to be moved.

Jones (POI): Doesn’t running the projector on SUB stage have an associated cost due to the expensive projector lights?

Hudema: The TVs would serve a faculty association or a charity better.

SLOMP/BEAMISH MOVED the previous question

Defeated
Sharma: Ah, fond memories of fighting with Jen Wanke over this last year. We’ve talked to students about this and, yes, while most of them are drunk thanks to the BSA, I don’t think students want airport-style TVs in their SUB; students want us to find more cost-effective ways to communicate with them.

Brechtel: I don’t think we should sink $30,000 into VIDS. I think students would appreciate having TV on in the evening. Even if the TVs only last a few more years, that would be more time than we’ll get out of the projector bulbs. Once the TVs are dead, it’s fine to let VIDS die. But as long as we have the resource, we might as well use it.

WELKE/SLOMP MOVED the previous question.

Defeated

Samuel: We’re not debating whether to spend money on VIDS or whether to turn VIDS into a marketing or entertainment venture. We’re debating whether to take down 10 TVs. Placement of the TVs sucks right now; sooner or later, they will need to be moved. The TVs aren’t so distracting that students can’t look at them. Students can go to libraries. The timing isn’t right to take down the TVs.

BOLIVAR/SLOMP MOVED the previous question

Carried

2002-24/12

LEGISLATION

2002-24/12a

SHARMA/SMITH MOVED THAT Students’ Council approve the proposed changes to Bylaw 4200 (SECOND Reading).

Please bring supporting documentation from the March 18, 2003 meeting.

Sharma: Remove CASA from bylaw as it is no longer pertinent.

Carried (35/2/1)

2002-24/12b

SMITH/WEPPLE MOVED THAT Students’ Council, upon the recommendation of the Internal Review Board, repeal existing Bylaws 7000, 7100, 7200, 7250, 7300, 7350, 7400, 7450, 7500, 7500 and 7550, approve the proposed Bylaw 7000, and approve the proposed amendments to Bylaws 3200 and 5400
(SECOND Reading)

Smith: Elimination of large swaths of useless information. Assigns responsibility for services to directors, rather than to council.

Botten: Why have two groups been added?

Smith: Because the computer and photocopier were conspiring against me.

SMITH MOVED TO remove groups 20 and 21

Friendly

Kawanami: Will the ECOS office be expanding enough next year to warrant so many more hours?

Hudema: The current ECOS director has been working well over the mandated 20hrs per week. The office has a large volunteer base and will have at least 6 working groups next year. The office is expanding and there is a tremendous push to work with the university’s sustainability task force.

Carried (35/2/1)

2002-24/12c

SMITH/BOLIVAR MOVED THAT Students’ Council, upon the recommendation of the Internal Review Board, approve the proposed amendments to Bylaw 6550 (SECOND READING)

REIKE/HUDEMA MOVED TO AMEND section 4 (c) to add “non-” before “voting member of the Executive Committee”

Reikie: Referendum implied that the organization would be run by a board of directors, not by a member of the executive committee.

Bolivar: IRB thought it was important to allow an exec member to have their voice heard. All other similar dedicated fees have a voting exec member on their board; what makes APIRG different? A non-voting member doesn’t have a voice in decisive issues. APIRG may operate on consensus now but we have no way of guaranteeing that the organization will operate that way in the future. The executive must ensure that student funds are being spent appropriately. If people have problems with this, they probably should have come to IRB, rather than bringing them up here.

Smith: FACRA and the Gateway are probably the closest dedicated fees to APIRG and the VPOF has a vote on those boards. Differences: APIRG has elected board of directors and they don’t want us to have a vote. This is not an accountability issue: exec isn’t to make sure that money is being spent properly (that’s the role of the FAB approval process). Real issue is full access to information and this can be achieved by having a non-voting exec member. Presence on the board can be used as an illusion of control that doesn’t exist and can impede real reform. Why does council need two voting members? Council can select an exec member to be their representative if they so desire.

Weppler: Anyone who can do math can clearly see that we don’t have power over this board. It is necessary to have two members to bring issues to the board (a mover and a seconder). Considering the amount of money going to APIRG and the wide variety of projects that they contribute to, it is important to have someone who represents a wider constituency.

Hudema: This is APIRG’s first year in office and they had a good electoral process. The referendum said that APIRG would be an independent body. If the exec is concerned, they can all go to an APRIG meeting. I suspect that APIRG doesn’t operate on Roberts’ Rules of Order Bolivar (POI): There is a less of an incentive for non-voting members to attend meetings.

Hudema: Then council needs to question that exec member because even as a non-voting member they are supposed to go to the meeting. This is completely out of the scope of the referendum question.

Kawanami: The exec has a duty to ensure that student money is well-spent. There was much concern in this body and in FAB on how the money was allocated within the framework of the referendum question (money they get by virtue of our authority to tax students). We need to entrench our vote in bylaw, as there is no way to ensure that the consensus model will continue in the future. It is important to maintain our vote lest we become the Roman Kotovych equivalent of the APRIG board (permanent non-voting member)

Sharma: Non voting/voting doesn’t really matter; you can still voice your concerns.

Reid: I think the amendment is a good idea [shock, dismay]. There is a difference between an oversight board and a control board. We do have a fiduciary duty to student money but this is accomplished through FAB. The only reason to be on the board is for access to information and we don’t need to be a voting member to accomplish that.
Jones: Not all undergraduates can vote, only those who pay the tax. APIRG is planning to incorporate as a society. The Societies Act requires all board members to have a vote. There is no point in a non-voting director; that’s nonsensical. Brechtel: Whenever I’m offered a non-voting seat on a GFC board, I turn it down because I know that those members rarely attend, rarely speak out and are marginalized in the committee system. It would be wrong to disenfranchise a board member. While I understand where some negative feelings towards the SU might come from, I think that APRIG could benefit from having an exec member on the board and I think the SU can benefit from having an exec member on the APRIG board.

WELKE/BOLIVAR MOVED the previous question

Defeated

Reikie: There is a lot of speculation about what could happen; let’s to stick to the situation right now. Giving voting status takes away 2 positions from the student body. A VP has no more democratic legitimacy than a duly elected board member and indeed probably has less. These spots belong to people who want them. Kawanami: To refresh council’s memories, the referendum question made no mention of an independent board of directors or a lack of an executive member on such a board, despite how some individuals may choose to remember it. Slomp: Most PIRGs operate on consensus; this is included in the APRIG bylaws. When you elect someone for the APRIG board of directors, that’s what you’re electing them for. It’s not what people think about when voting for VPOF because the APIRG board is such a small component of that job.

ROSS/SMITH MOVED THAT Students’ Council, upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee, approve the proposed changes to Bylaw 3400 (FIRST Reading).

Please see document SC 02-24.02.

Ross: Getting a DOC because CRC doesn’t exist. Moving ACEC position; once 1 person, now 2 people with honorarium.

Carried (32/2/0) (Referred to IRB)
SMITH/REIKIE MOVED THAT Students' Council repeal the existing Bylaw 6100 and replace it with the proposed Bylaw 6100 (FIRST Reading).

Please see document SC 02-24.03.

Smith: This is my fault; by telling council last week to defeat bylaw 6100 to axe the endowment fund, we accidentally lost a bunch of housekeeping.

Carried (28/3/1) (Referred to IRB)

SHARMA/HUDEMA MOVED THAT Students’ Council approve the proposed Political Policy “Alberta Student Loan Program – Monthly Living Allowances.”

Please see LA 02-24.02

Sharma: Budget indicates that the government is clearly not moving to increase living allowances.

Carried (28/5/1)

SHARMA/HUDEMA MOVED THAT Students’ Council approve the proposed Political Policy: “Part-Time Earnings.”

Please see LA 02-24.03

Sharma: Students deserve to make however much money they choose; this gives students more autonomy.

Carried (32/4/2)

SHARMA/REIKIE MOVED THAT Students’ Council approve the proposed Political Policy “Board of Governors”.

Please see document LA 02-24.05.

Sharma: BoG membership is not representative of a diverse cross-section of Albertans. Undergrads should have greater representation as they pay for 24% of operating expenditures.

Smith (POI): As we comprise more than 24% of the population, is a contradiction not inherent in the policy?

Sharma: We just want more students on the board.

HUDEMA MOVED TO AMEND to read “or proportion of institutional revenues” (not “and”)

Friendly

REID MOVED TO strike paragraphs 2, 3, 6, 7 and “further” from 8.

Reid: I have no problem saying that there aren’t enough students on the board but the rest suggests that board is dominated by private sector which is inflammatory and not really true.

Hudema (POI): What about those members directly appointed by the government?

Reid: The 8 members from the public aren’t all private sector people.

Jones: If people who are farmers, greenhouse owners and lawyers aren’t members of the private sector, who is?

Reid: This board isn’t dominated by CEOs.

Sharma (Councillor): Are these people representative of Edmonton’s interests as a whole? Do they represent a range of socio-economic positions?

Reid: I don’t know what their socio-economic positions now or in past. Charter mandates to make business decisions in the best interests of the University, not Edmonton.

Kawanami: It is important that our message not be lost amongst the rhetoric. Our demand is to have more students on the board; let’s put that forth simply.

Smith: This provincial gov’t has failed to appoint people who are “representative of the general public,” even if these people are well qualified.

SMITH MOVED TO AMEND to read as follows:

WHEREAS Boards of Governors are dominated by “public” members;

WHEREAS “public” members are most often represented by members of the private sector;

WHEREAS the private sector is integral to Alberta social and economic growth, but is not the only sector worthy of representation on university Boards of Governors;
WHEREAS student representation on Boards of Governors is not proportional to student contributions to institutional revenues in the form of tuition;
BE IT RESOLVED THAT the University of Alberta Students’ Union lobby the provincial government for a greater diversity among “public” members on University Boards of Governors;

[paragraph 7 removed]

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT the University of Alberta Students’ Union lobby the provincial government to increase undergraduate student representation on Boards of Governors in line with student share of campus population or contribution to institutional revenues.

Friendly

HUDEMA/SHARMA MOVED TO re-insert paragraph 7.

Hudema: Some direction is needed wrt what a “diverse representation” means. I would also add gender and socio-economic status.

Clyburn: The gov’t may think that they’re following the Universities Act but they’re not.

Sharma: We’ve brought this up with the minister of learning and I don’t know why it hasn’t been incorporated into policy before now. Regional diversity would also be important.

Brechtel: There are many different types of diversity; the two clauses make it clear that our concern is overrepresentation from the private sector; it’s not necessary to include a long list.

Samuel: It is dangerous to have too many groups listed; leaving “diversity” unqualified allows more flexibility in our lobbying efforts.

2002-24/12i SHARMA/REIKIE MOVED THAT Students’ Council approve the proposed Political Policy “Registered Education Savings Plans”
Political Policy: RESP

Please see document LA 02-24.06.

Sharma: There is a private members motion coming forth on RESPs, making this motion very timely. RESPs only target people who can afford to register their savings (usually middle to high income). Only 25% of people save for their children's education. We want to make sure that needs-based grants don’t disappear. RESPs subsidize people who can afford to pay (i.e. the wealthy) and focuses on education as a user-pay system. This is more than a savings plan; there are also social implications for how PSE should be funded.

KAWANAMI/EKDAHL MOVED TO STRIKE the 3rd and 4th BIRT

Kawanami: EAB had concerns with these clauses because they send an inconsistent message wrt parental contributions. It doesn’t make sense to oppose this program just because we’re not getting everything that we want.

Hudema: In ON, RESPs have been used to justify clawing back other means of funding and provide an easy justification for a user-pay system. RESPs only help people who could already afford to attend university. People who use the student loan program shouldn’t be penalized for their parents’ decisions. This program will be implemented regardless of what we say about it. Given that, it’s important that our concerns about it be voiced.

Carried (13/11/5)

Sharma: By striking the 3rd resolution, we have made this policy in favor of a user-pay system. I don’t know why council voted that way. <pout>

NEW BUSINESS

2002-24/13a

KAWANAMI/JONES MOVED THAT the CRO give a report to council on the election, including budget, problems, recommendations, etc.

Kawanami: It is important that we are aware of any problems that occurred with this year’s elections in the hope of allowing future ones to run more smoothly.

Samuel: Has the CRO been forewarned of this motion and will she be available for the meeting in question?

Smith: This motion only requires a report, not necessarily a verbal one. Worst case, she could provide a written report.

Jones: If she doesn’t have time to do a report, she should do so out of the time she spends webboarding. As an SU employee, she’s required to give reports.

WELKE/SAMUEL MOVED TO include “2003/2004” before “council”

Welke: This year’s council can’t do squat; she should give the report to someone who can do something useful.

Sharma: The CRO should report to both councils, ideally at the transition meeting on the 30th.

Brechtel: The CRO is already required to do a final report or her salary is withheld. This report could easily be forwarded to council.

Jones: The CRO is responsible to this year’s council. This motion seeks to specify specific issues council would like to see addressed in the report.
